Inventory has revealed a great many more odds and ends and broken lots of the various stocks than was expected.

In order to clear away these lots before the heavy spring selling commences, we will conduct a clearing sale during the month of February, announcement of which will be made as soon as the stocks can be conveniently arranged.

What Does Your Boy Read?

As the long winter evenings close in upon us, the choice of good home readings for our boys and girls becomes the one important subject to every parent. The "yellow backs," cheap, trashy, paper-covered Indian and "bandit" stories have undoubtedly worked a great deal of harm to the youth of the country. We have given this matter a good deal of thought in the making of our NEW HOME LIBRARY, and for 17c a volume can give any parent the choice of a large number of sound, splendid stories for boys—books bound in cloth, durable and handsome—books that your boy will always be glad to read and keep. Among the excellent books of this class we recommend the following:

Arabian Nights, Black Beauty, Green Mountain Boys, Grimm's Fairy Tales, Last of the Mohicans, Oliver Twist, Robinson Crusoe, Uncle Tom's Cabin, Treasure Island, Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, Tom Brown at Oxford, Two Years Before the Mast, etc.

Of course, there are many other fine books for boys at 17c each, in this great library of ours, but the above are so popular as to be called the "boys' classics."
